O'Connell Says Kelly, Frisch And Young Were Instigators In Bribery

Giants $75,000 Beauty Barred From Series For Offering Bribe

NEW YORK, October 2.—(By the Associated Press.)—Jimmy O'Connell, Giants outfielder, expelled by Baseball Commissioner Landis last night after he had confessed to having offered a $500 bribe to infielder Heinie Sand, of the Philadelphia Athletics, to throw last Saturday's game, today declared he had been made the "goat" and that other members of the New York team were the instigators of the bribery plot.

Cozy Dolan, Giants coach, who also was expelled as a result of O'Connell's confession; George Kelly, Captain Frank Frisch and outfielder Ross Young all spoke to him concerning the bribery. O'Connell said, adding that they gave him to understand that the entire Giants team was "in on it."

"They were all in on it," the young outfielder said, "and being made the goat, that's all."

O'Connell reported that other members of the team at the Polo Grounds at 10 o'clock this morning, declaring that he had not been "officially" or unofficially notified of his suspension.

"I did not know what else to do," he explained. He frankly discussed the details of the attempted bribery.

O'Connell said that the bribery plan was first broached to him in the Giants dressing room by Dolan before last Saturday's game. Dolan, he said, asked him if he was well acquainted with Sand. O'Connell said he told him he was, saying they were both Californians, and had known each other for a long time. Dolan then said, according to O'Connell:

"If you can get Sand to let down in today's game, tell him there's $500 in it for him."

"I asked Dolan where the money was to come from," continued O'Connell. "and he said, 'Well, the Giants are all going to chip in and make up the purse.' I agreed and said I would see Sand before the game."

Asked if he did not consider it strange that such an offer should be made by a fellow team member, O'Connell replied:

"It did not. Dolan said all the other players on the team were in on it and I said to myself, 'If all the fellows are in on this there is nothing strange about it and it's all right for me, too.'"

O'Connell said that a short time after Dolan made the bribery proposal to him, Ross Young entered the club house and asked if Dolan had said anything to him.

"I told him yes," the young outfielder continued, "and Young said: 'You go ahead, because it's all right.'"

"Then Frank Frisch came up to me," O'Connell added, "and also told me to tell Sand that if he would throw the game he could have anything he wanted. I don't remember exactly what Kelly said to me but I do remember he talked to me about the thing and that he gave me the idea that he was in on it."

O'Connell said he then sought Sand, finding him on the baseball field during the pre-game practice.

"I went up to him and said, 'Sand, who are you fellows for?' he replied. 'Sand said, 'we're not for anybody—we are finishing out the season.' I then told Sand that if he would not bear down in that day's game it would be worth $500 to him and he said he wouldn't do it and walked away. 'Nothing doing,' Sand said."

O'Connell then said he reported to Dolan in the dugout the result of his colloquy with Sand, whereupon the coach told him to "forget it."

Landis Says Case Is Closed

WASHINGTON, October 2.—(By the Associated Press.)—Investigation of the charges of attempted bribery involving the New York Giants, National League champions, has been completed and baseball officials apparently are convinced that the expulsion of Jimmy O'Connell, young outfielder substitute, and "Cozy" Dolan, veteran coach, has brought the case officially to a close.

When shown O'Connell's statement of today, Commissioner Landis said he had "nothing to add" to his previous utterances. His statement was clear, he said, and unless new developments arose he would not do anything to reopen the case.

This was the attitude reflected today by Commissioner Landis, who announced in New York last night that Dolan and O'Connell had been ruled ineligible in the World Series, and John A. Heydler, president of the National League.

Both of the officials arrived early today from New York and after a conference indicated that no further steps were contemplated unless some new angle arises in a situation which has been subject to the most searching investigations.

The overnight sensation, coming as a shock to fans throughout the country on the eve of what promised to be one of the most colorful championships in the game's history, set rumors flying thick and fast, but among leaders gathering here for the diamond classic, there was a disposition to close the ranks and go ahead with series plans.

President Heydler was quick to deny a report that the charges against the Giants might go so far as to cause cancellation of the fall series with Senators, opening Saturday.

"There is not the remotest chance of this affair interfering with the series," he declared. "Judge Landis' findings and his decision, announced last night have disposed of the case so far as we can anticipate. The guilt has been put where it belongs. It does not involve any other member of the Giants and the series will go on."

Landis has nothing to add.

Commissioner Landis, saying he had nothing to add to his statement last night, turned the matter completely aside in favor of an inspection of the Washington Park.

The dispatch with which the entire affair was handled was stressed by President Heydler. It was just prior to last Saturday's game at New York with Philadelphia, during batting practice, that O'Connell, it is charged, approached Heinie Sand, Philadelphia National's shortstop with a $500 offer to throw the contest, which was won by the Giants, clinching the pennant.

Sand, refusing the offer, immediately reported the incident to his manager, Arthur Fletcher, for many years a Giant star, and Fletcher laid the case before President Heydler the following day, during the second game of the series at the Polo Grounds.

Summoned by the National League executive, Commissioner Landis came from Chicago, held prolonged hearings Tuesday and yesterday, culminating, he announced, in O'Connell's confession, the implication of Dolan and announcement last night of their disbarment. Then, President Heydler pointed out, within five days the entire situation was sifted, the guilt placed and the case closed.

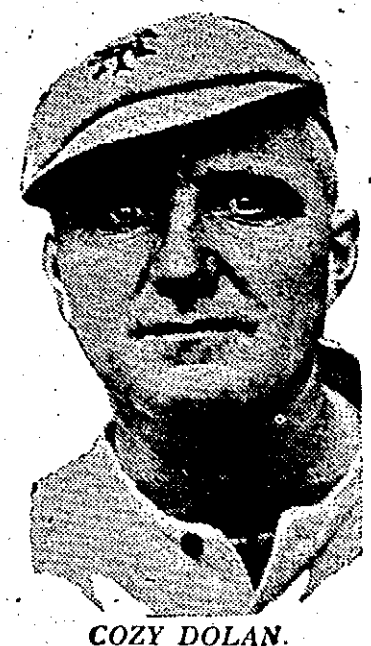

NEW YORK, October 2.—(By the Associated Press.)—As preparations were being made to receive baseball, football and the world's series in New York last fall, the "World's Series" story and there was clear evidence of tampering," said Dreyfuss' statement which declared that both John McGraw, manager of the Giants, and Dolan "were warned at the time to keep away from other clubs."

Dreyfuss said when he learned of Traynor being approached he "suspected that Manager McGraw had put Dolan up to the trick, his object probably being to get Traynor disbarred and make trouble on our club or force us to trade the third baseman." At the hearing before Commissioner Landis, the statement said, Dolan said he had merely "told 'the' he ought to get more money in 1924 and denied any one had prompted him."

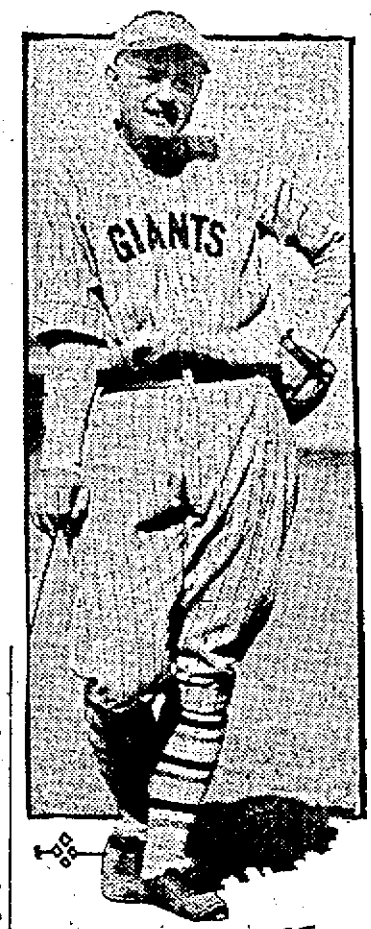

Referring to the scope of the present investigation Dreyfuss declared the full duty of Commissioner Landis would not be done until he had probed the case much further.

"I think it is only the beginning," said the statement, "and that we have merely been given the first chapter of what is likely to prove a long story. It is my opinion that O'Connell and Dolan are only the goats and that the guilt goes much further. It is an insult to the intelligence of the public to ask people to believe that two rather obscure members of a champion club, like O'Connell and Dolan, would go and (Continued On Page Ten)

JIMMY O'CONNELL

British Labor Cabinet Totters

LONDON, October 2.—(By the Associated Press.)—Talk has again risen of the "imminent fall of the labor government" and the probability of a general election before Christmas. Similar expectations have been raised more than once since the laborites assumed office, but this time the forecast is declared to be the real thing.

The crisis—for so it is regarded on all sides—came suddenly into last night when notice was given in parliament of two motions against the government. One by the Conservatives, censures the government's conduct in reference to the abandonment of criminal proceedings against James Ross Campbell, acting editor of the Workers' Weekly, a Communist publication.

The other by the Liberals, voices disapproval of the Anglo-Russian treaty, which according to the wording of the motion, "instead of providing a genuine contribution toward dissolving the problem of unemployment, threatens to divert resources which are urgently needed for rational and imperial development and contemplates that the British taxpayer should be made liable for further loans to the Russian state, raised by means of a guarantee of the British government, as the condition upon which the private claims of certain British creditors should be recognized or met by the Soviet Republic."

Judge Caverly Improved

CHICAGO, October 2.—(By the United Press.)—From his room in Mercy Hospital here, Justice John R. Caverly, who gained international notoriety by his handling of the sensational Leopold-Loeb murder case, today sent word that he was practically recovered from his nervous breakdown.

Even now only a handful of intimate friends are permitted to see him, however.

"I'll be back on the job by October 13," he was quoted as saying. "The rest, the dieting and the other things have made me feel a hundred per cent better. I have had a strenuous year."

It was clinched by the Leopold-Loeb case and I was on the verge of collapse when it was over. I tried not to mind the untold remarks made by the hundreds of cranks who write me about the case. But I started to worry when they began to threaten my wife. One man wrote he would stick a poison needle in her."

Governor Wm. B. Ross of Wyoming Succumbs

CHEYENNE, WYO., October 2.—(By the United Press.)—Governor Wm. B. Ross, of Wyoming, died at 3:15 a. m. today just one week after he had undergone an abdominal operation at Memorial Hospital. Death resulted from septic phlebitis which had been manifest from the time of the operation.

The governor was 51 years old. Governor Ross underwent an operation for appendicitis at a hospital here Wednesday. The operation was pronounced successful, but within the last few days his condition became serious with the development of complications.

Physicians said last night that an inflammation of the veins had set in three days ago. Governor Ross was 51 and is survived by his widow and three sons.

He was the third Democratic governor to be elected in Wyoming during his 34 years of statehood. He was elected in 1922, to a four-year term, after a bitter campaign.

The death of Governor Ross makes necessary the election of a governor at the general election next month. During the intervening period, under Wyoming law, the secretary of state acts.

McGraw Calls Them "Saps"

NEW YORK, October 2.—(By Associated Press.)—John J. McGraw, manager of the Giants, after a meeting of the team this morning, said he did not think that either Dolan or O'Connell was "vicious" or that either had any connection with a gambling ring.

"They were saps," McGraw declared.

"I can't understand why these two men did what they did," McGraw continued, "when the chances were 100 to 1 that New York would win the pennant. The only explanation I can give is that they are a couple of saps. If you search the country over you probably could not find two bigger ones."

O'Connell attended the meeting of the club, held at the Polo Grounds, but Dolan was not there. McGraw announced that both would be banned as soon as he had received official notice of Commissioner Landis' decision. This was taken to mean that O'Connell probably would leave for Washington with the Giants this afternoon.

Francis X. McQuade, treasurer of the Giants said he believed O'Connell had implicated Kelly, Frisch and Young because he (O'Connell) realized he was in bad and had tried to put part of the blame on the others.

The attitude of the players toward O'Connell this morning, McGraw asserted, "seemed to be one of sympathy rather than resentment. At the meeting I tried to pep the boys up so that the incident would have no effect on the team. But of course, I can't tell how it will affect either the players or the public."

Believing that the person really responsible for the O'Connell incident was some one outside of baseball, officials of the New York club began an investigation into the movements of an unnamed person, who has been barred from the Polo Grounds in recent years but who, it is said, was seen in the park during the series with the Pittsburgh Pirates and Philadelphia clubs.

It developed that during the last four or five years the Giants' management had employed detectives to keep the players under surveillance at all times and to inform McGraw as to their movements and their company.

Dreyfuss Says O'Connell Only "The Goat"

PITTSBURGH, October 2.—(By the Associated Press.)—Calling off of the world series would "not be too far to go to get the right results" of baseball's latest scandal, it was declared today by Barney Dreyfuss, owner of the Pittsburgh Pirates, who issued a statement declaring Jimmy O'Connell and Cozy Dolan of the New York Giants, accused of offering a bribe to have a game with Philadelphia thrown last Saturday, were "only the goats."

Dreyfuss, whose team for a time threatened to win the pennant in the National League, declared that Dolan last year approached Pie Traynor, stellar third baseman of Pirates, and he was informed, "advised Traynor to hold me up for $15,000 salary for 1924."

FISH AND GAME DEPT. CENTER OF POLITICAL ROW

COLUMBUS, O., October 2.—(By the Associated Press.)—The state fish and game department and the respective records of the administrations of Governor Vic Donahey and former Governor Harry L. Davis furnished the subject for campaign charges by both Republican and Democratic headquarters yesterday.

Declarations by A. S. Baxter, former chief of the division, and J. W. Stuber, former assistant, but now editor of the Ohio Sportsman, that the "division had become a political pawn" under the Donahey administration brought a counter charge from T. E. Dye, chairman of the Democratic State Executive Committee, that the attacks by Baxter and Stuber were prompted by a desire to have Davis re-elected governor in order that they might regain control of the fish and game division.

L. A. Boulay, state highway director, took up the cudgel for Governor Donahey and denied statements made by Davis in his campaign speeches to the effect that his administration had connected three times the amount of highways than any other administration.

Boulay's statement was supplemented by another from Chairman Dye in which he asserted "that when Harry L. Davis sets out to defend his own administration, admitted to have been the most corrupt in the history of Ohio, he is pathetic" and that "Davis as an historian is inaccurate in slightly less degree than his administration was free from scandal."

OFFICIAL WASHINGTON GIVES VIEWS ON COMING WORLD SERIES GAMES

BY FRANK GETTY

(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, October 2.—To tell them in this town that you're from New York is something like wearing a nice new sweater into a land of bunnies.

If the good citizens of Washington don't talk you to death, they'll bet you to death.

There's as much feeling in the affair as though the Dublin football team were playing in Belfast. For the first time in four years, one can get worked up over a world's series. And Washington is that—and then some.

Government officials, high, low and Jack, are leaving official statements on the matter. An legislative reporter who went the rounds to see what official Washington thought about it obtained some surprising results, which might have been as follows:

State department: Live of the ball and more to settle these domestic difficulties, in place of shot and shell, will mark a great step forward in the path of peace.

Department of Justice—on behalf of ex-Attorney General Daugherty—I don't like the series.

Senator Lodge—All leagues look alike to me.

Senator Robert M. La Follette—I favor baseball because it sets things back into the hands of the people.

Secretary Joseph Robinson—Democratic leader of the senate. It is much better game than golf. In baseball, if you fight, you get out of the field, but in golf, they kick you off the club.

Department of commerce—Speculators at the series are requested to consider that the number of balls knocked into the stands and purloined would, if placed side by side, reach farther than an Italian round the world flight.

Dawes Ignores Demand Made By Brookhart

DAWES SPECIAL ENROUTE TO KANSAS CITY, DAVENPORT, IA., October 2.—(By Associated Press.)—Charles G. Dawes, Republican candidate for vice president in his first speech in Iowa today ignored the demand by Senator Brookhart of this state that he be declared from the Republican national ticket.

Mr. Dawes on entering Iowa here, found Senator Brookhart's demand, made Tuesday in a letter to Republican National Chairman Butler, under discussion among all Republicans but he declared he would "not deal in personalities."

He turned his attention to the La Follette Independent movement. Declaration that "wounded birds always flutter" was the sole statement by Mr. Dawes that might be interpreted as referring to Senator Brookhart.

The committee against the movement which he said was aimed against the federal constitution and the courts describing it as a proposal to throw away the compass of the ship of state.

All other issues were wrapped up in this one, he added.

Story of Political Blackmail Told By Senator Wheeler

(BY PAUL R. MALLON)
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

WHEELING, MONDAY, October 2.—(By the United Press.)—A story of political blackmail involving a district attorney, the department of justice and the Republican National Committee was told by Senator Burton K. Wheeler to his home folks as the alleged cause of his indictment here.

The independent vice presidential candidate charged directly that Republican agents had dug up evidence involving District Attorney Slattery here in bootlegging cases and that this evidence was held over Slattery's head to compel him to seek the indictment against Wheeler.

It was "Bureau" detectives and justice department agents who came here to arrest him and not Slattery's record on his failure to prosecute bootleggers, and even went on parties with his deputies here and in Helena, Wheeler stated.

They put the evidence they wanted and then they sent Bill (Dean) representing the National Republican Committee to see Slattery and in return for silence in the department of justice against Slattery, it was agreed that an indictment should be returned against him.

The story took form in a ballad and when he could not agree, they were permitted to start out and go to work. And it was only after they returned that they finally were able to obtain an indictment against me. It is now a matter of how long it will take to get the indictments against some of the others in the meantime.

During all this time the strong suggestion in the White House at Idaho, he didn't have the courage to speak out as Thomas Roosevelt did when he found Senator Borah of Idaho, a similar manner.

Expect 37 Foot Stage In River

Great of the present rise in the Ohio river is not expected here before Saturday morning, when, according to Weather Forecaster W. C. Dyer, rain at Cincinnati, the stage here will be about 37 feet.

A special reading at one o'clock this afternoon on the local stage by river observer F. B. Winter showed the Ohio here registering 22.6 feet, the rise for the preceding six hours averaging 1 1/2 inches per hour. The rate of rise from seven Wednesday morning until seven this morning was one inch per hour.

Not only will the lower conlands be flooded and many acres of corn destroyed but good sized crops of potatoes on the Boone Vista pike below Friendship will be wiped out.

Wednesday it was thought that the present high water would reach only 25 feet on the banks of the river, but when it became known today that the river here would be near the 37 foot mark, farmers along Boone Vista prepared to eat and wait what corn they could before the water reached it. In addition several farmers in this same section will lose heavily by water covering their late potato crops. Will Tipton will be one of the heavy losers in potatoes. Farmers on the Kentucky side of the river will also suffer. Ed Williams of Booneville reported this morning that 25 feet of water would cover considerable corn land on his farm and adjoining farms.

Among the Scioto county farmers suffering losses on the Boone Vista pike are Len Kennedy, Will Tipton, Edward Wright and Bob Yates. Other Scioto bottom land farmers who will lose corn and potatoes are Frank Sommer, G. H. Hinkel, Spencer Cole and Otha Applegate. Some late sugar corn will also be covered by water.

The Ohio stage continued to rise today as far east as Parkersburg. The Muskingum was rising this morning at Zanesville. Charleston on the great Kanawha reported the river falling this morning.

The weather prediction is "fair and slightly warmer tonight and Friday." According to Weather Forecaster Dyer, the Kanawha river will fall and the Ohio below the Kanawha will rise tonight and Friday with a crest of 35 or 36 feet at Huntington and 35 or 37 feet at Portsmouth, during Saturday.

Ruth Draper, Widely Known Character Delineator, Opens Concert Course Here Oct. 13

Attractive posters bearing the famous Sargent sketch of Ruth Draper, a Scotch Immigrant, made their appearance in the downtown business section today, calling attention to Miss Draper's recital here, October 13, as the first number on the Ladies' Musical Concert Course for this winter. Ruth Draper is unique in her field of art. Percy Hammond in the New York Tribune says of her, "My decision is that Ruth Draper is the best actress in the world."

Other numbers on the course include the Cincinnati Symphony, here November 12, and Mabel Garrison, soprano, January 27.

In addition to the three artist recitals, the season tickets entitle patrons to four afternoon programs, including lectures and musicals, thus making a course of seven attractions for the price of the season ticket, which is $5.00. Each artist recital assistance fee, if bought singly, will be $2.00, and the four afternoon programs will be $2.00, thus making a total of $8.00 if tickets are purchased separately, and giving patrons the advantage of a saving of $3.00 by purchasing the $5.00 tickets for the entire course.

Tickets were prepared from members of the Ladies' Musical or at Kay-Grubbs', Stargers' or Somers' music stores.

Local Kiwanians Entertain Chillicotheans At The New Country Club On West Side

One of the most enjoyable affairs in the history of the local Kiwanis club was the outing held at the new country club on the West Side, Wednesday afternoon and evening, when the local club had twenty-one of their Chillicothe brethren as their guests. The affair started early in the afternoon and continued until late in the evening, and there was not a dull moment for either side. Even when there was a slight indication that a lull might appear, the local club, while waiting upon the appearance of the Chillicothe boys, took straw votes and there was a buzz of interest during the taking of the vote, which favors the republican side of the club and which, according to some of the republicans in the club, settled the election. The vote on president was: Coolidge 54, Davis 7, For governor, Davis 37, Donahy 14. The vote was announced by President Frank Appel, and of course the republicans greeted the announcement with cheers.

President Appel presided at the meeting, following a well served dinner, and called upon Maurice A. (Squire) Coe, who delivered the address of welcome. Mr. Coe was serious and pointed his address being a gun. His address was responded to by President W. G. Hyde of the visiting club. Mr. Hyde is a speaker of the Coe cast-iron and witty. The affair was then turned over to President Hyde, who introduced the Chillicotheans.

The following Chillicotheans attended the affair: Louis Lagasse, Ben M. Seng, Walter H. Brantley, H. W. Lamson, Fred Cook, Joseph A. Deshler, Clarence Webb, C. H. Snyder, E. L. Bergman, Edward Long, W. H. Higley, Charles C. Schlegel, T. G. Chambers, Lee Barnhart, J. A. Eshenbach, William Bohn, Pat Hyland Jr., George Barrett, C. F. Hagerman, W. G. Hyde, A. C. Zuecher.

A basket of Grimes Golden apples was distributed at the meeting by Marvin Clark.

Barber Shop Political Talk Toned Down

COLUMBUS, O., October 2.—(By the United Press.)—The American barber shops have been the scene of political differences and while comment can be said to be in a good deal of danger now that mother and sister frequent the shops for shingle bobs.

A number of Columbus barber shops have decided to do their best to keep politics from the shop discussions since lady patrons are too apt to be "riled" over political differences.

They seem to try to turn all political arguments into gossip or such other diversion so as to keep the feminine patronage from getting hostile.

Women love to argue politics as a rule, but they get tired too easily and then it's all off, say some barbers.

"Our cosmeticians are instructed to talk to lady clients about something else besides politics," say beauty parlor operators.

Of course women have always dominated beauty parlors but on the occasion of barber shops tooling down political fire, beauty shop proprietors were asked if politics ever caused any great deal of trouble in their respective parlors. It had. Women can get irritated when differing over politics.

Dean, who claims Chicago as his home, was remanded to jail in default of $500 bond.

With ROOSEVELT IN AFRICA

by W. Robert Foran © 1924 NEA Service Inc.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Robert Foran, newspaper correspondent, accompanies the Theodore Roosevelt expedition into Africa in 1906. They arrive at Mombasa, the gateway of British East Africa, and then make the railroad journey to the first camp on the game-covered East African plains. With Colonel Roosevelt are his son, Kermit, and three scientific members of his staff—Major Edward A. Mearns, Edmund Heller and J. Allen Loring.

After a wonderfully successful shooting trip in the South country, the expedition camps for more hunting at a farm called Saigai-Sai. After several other trips they make the Guaso Nyero elephant country and meet with more good sport. Foran, at Nairobi, sends a telegram to Roosevelt, at Nyeri, asking for his comment on Captain Peary's announcement that he has discovered the North Pole.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

A few days after the receipt of this letter from Colonel Roosevelt, I was handed a telegram from him which had been sent from Nyeri. It read: "Capt. Robert Foran, Boma Trading Company, Nairobi."

Meet me at Nairobi on Oct. 20. Send to Peary following telegram which you can publish. Quote, "Deeply appreciate your cable. I congratulate you from my heart. All the American people, and indeed all civilized mankind are your debtors. You have performed one of the greatest feats of the ages." Roosevelt.

Immediately after sending me this message for transmission to Captain Peary, Colonel Roosevelt started off on his hunt out of Nyeri for the Guaso Nyero. Kermit had already gone off with Tarlton to Lake Baringo. Their extraordinary luck in hunting still held good.

About the 10th of October, I received news of their good fortune by a telegram from Colonel Roosevelt himself. He had wired me from Nyeri on the preceding day.

Capt. Robert Foran, Boma Trading Company, Nairobi.

Have just arrived at Nyeri from the Guaso Nyero. All well except one porter who was tossed by rhino and he is getting better. Have killed three more elephants, completing group for the National Museum at Washington and getting a good bull for American Museum at New York. Also killed rhino with excellent horn, a buffalo, and gruffies, eland and antelope of the northern species as well as ostriches, oryx, gazelles and other animals which we had not hitherto collected, the skins all being preserved for the National Museum. Kermit has killed two elephants and a rhino with a very long horn, in addition to the bag you already know.

Roosevelt.

The saving of the skins of all these specimens for the museums was another monumental evidence of Heller's and Cunningham's mastery work with their skinning knives. With the help of the natives they had trained they had accomplished a most stupendous task under most difficult conditions. No expedition in Africa had ever been better served by the staff that accompanied it than Colonel Roosevelt was served by his personnel during those long months in Africa.

Meanwhile, Kermit had killed his second elephant, another rhino with good horns, greater kudu and many other specimens of numerous varieties.

Colonel Roosevelt, Heller and Cunningham returned to Nyeri on Oct. 15; and they prepared the many trophies there for conveyance by native porters to Nairobi, where they were due to arrive on Oct. 20.

CHAPTER XVII

From Londiani to the Usini Gishu. Colonel Roosevelt looked remarkably sunburned and in excellent health, but his khaki hunting suit showed up the mistake of a wall of mud. It was a mass of patches. As we turned back with him and rode toward the Rift Valley Hotel, he told me a little about his recent adventures.

"Kermit and I are both very proud of the fact that we have gotten some of our elephants without the help of Cunningham or Tarlton," he said, and his eyes were full of pride. "Elephant hunting is no child's play at any time. I had a mighty narrow escape from an old bull, too."

"Tell me about it, Colonel. I've only heard rumors," I begged him.

"Cunningham and I came across a big tusker, and I fired a little to one side of its eye," Roosevelt continued. "The bull charged the empty shells out of my gun and rapidly reloading. But Cunningham fired right and left barrels of his gun at the bull, and then threw himself into the bushes. Both his bullets hit and stopped the charge. The elephant wheeled, and galloped away into the thick cover of the forest. We ran after him, but were unable to get a shot at him. We could hear him trumpet shrilly and angrily ahead of us; and then all sounds ceased. It was a mighty close shave, Kermit."

I had heard of his being nearly killed by a charging elephant, but had not realized how close had been the call. It was, indeed, a providential escape.

The skins and skeletons of the elephants that had been killed were carried into Nairobi by the native porters; but, as the loads were very bulky and heavy, the progress of the expedition was necessarily slow. Not reaching camp until late in the afternoon.

The huge skulls of the elephants were slung on poles, and each was carried by eight porters. Each load had a relief party of eight porters in attendance upon it, otherwise they would not have been able to carry the heavy loads over the high hills of the Aberdare Range.

On reaching Nairobi, the loads were immediately spread out in the camp and sorted. Then Heller took charge and supervised the loading of them into two freight vans, which were to be attached to Colonel Roosevelt's special train early next morning for transfer to Londiani.

After dinner Roosevelt talked more of his recent trip. He seemed particularly proud of his experiences when hunting along with only his native followers in the Guaso Nyero country.

He had used donkeys to carry his supplies and baggage on this trip, also some Kikuyu natives. Here he had killed a magnificent specimen of an eland bull, after a long and difficult stalk. Later he had killed an oryx, and a marabou stork on the wing with his rifle. His success continued, and daily he had added to his KERMIT ROOSEVELT IN CAMP. trophies. He said that this latter personally conducted hunt was delightful, and he had become really attached to his native employees.

That night Roosevelt and Heller slept at the hotel, while Cunningham and myself bedded down in the camp. We were all up and about at sunrise, for our train was due to leave for Londiani at 8 o'clock. We arrived at Nairobi at noon, and found Lord Delamere and a great many officials and settlers on the platform to greet Colonel Roosevelt on his return after such a long absence.

He stood chatting with Lord Delamere for some time, arranging the details of his hunt, with him after dinner and spent the night in the hotel. And then he drove off to Mr. Milne's house, where he was to be a guest while in Nairobi.

TELLS HOW IT FEELS TO BE A REAL COMEBACK

When a man who has life thrown out of his chest, smiles and says: "I day was great—I can eat anything," he has struck the keynote of contentment and happiness and he is envied by those less fortunate.

When that same man was only a short time before, all run down, nervous and couldn't trust his stomach to accept the simplest foods, and then get back again to good health, he is so happy that he wants to make life better for the "other fellow" who is suffering like he had been.

That is the story of N. F. Backer, of 127 Willow Street, who has recently had this experience through the use of Peppin the famous new herbal medicine now sold at Fisher & Streich's Pharmacy.

Kermit and Tarlton arrived the following morning, having ridden down from Nakuru in a light train. They had done some successful hunting during the two or three days they had remained at Nakuru.

All the members of the expedition spoke wistfully of Kermit's astounding feats of endurance on safari. It seemed that he could even wear down such tried old veterans as Cunningham and Tarlton. The latter was looking very much the worse for his hard hunting in company with Kermit.

According to Tarlton, Kermit absolutely did not know the meaning of the word "fear," and no hardship was too great for him. Distance was no obstacle, and he would as soon travel 40 miles a day as 20. His foot running had greatly impressed Tarlton and indeed everyone in the expedition, and on more than one occasion Kermit had run down on foot fleet-footed antelope or gazelle, and then killed them after a long chase across the sun-burned plain.

On Monday, Oct. 25, we all left Nairobi for Londiani.

We reached Nakuru at 3 o'clock in the morning, and here collected our porters and horses. Cunningham, Tarlton and I worked all through the small hours of the morning to see that they were all got onto the train. At daybreak we reached Molo, on the summit of the Mau Escarpment, and at an altitude of 8000 feet above the sea level. This is the highest point on the Uganda Railway. The railway up to this point passes through great forests and through occasional open glades. The air was fresh and bracing, and had a cold snap to it. From the Mau Summit we ran down through fine open grass plains, edged with belts of fine forests, to Londiani at an altitude of some 7400 feet. (Continued in Our Next Issue.)

"One bottle of Ka-di-oh that cost me a dollar was worth more in value received than hundreds I have spent in the past year." These enthusiastic words are the statement of Alexander Wilson, miner of Goody, Ky., who has found Ka-di-oh of untold worth in relieving him of after-effects of typhoid fever.

"A year ago last fall," writes Mr. Wilson, "I had typhoid fever which left me with a miserable stomach. I was so weakened at times I thought I would drop from sheer exhaustion and weakness. I have been treated for everything, tuberculosis included, and have spent from $300 to $1,000 in search of relief."

"I kept going down hill all the time until I learned of Ka-di-oh, which has done more than anything I have taken to put me on the right road. It is great. I am gaining every day, and I want to tell my suffering brothers and friends what a wonderful medicine Ka-di-oh is. I am stronger and heavier, and I no longer suffer from that all-gone feeling after a day's work. It means a lot to me, and I want to thank you for my renewed strength and health."

Many other cases just like Mr. Wilson's have been equally benefited. Rheumatism, indigestion, stomachic gasses, insomnia, loss of appetite, nervousness and general debility, all disorders resulting from improper condition of the stomach, liver or kidneys, have been relieved in all parts of the country. Ka-di-oh may be obtained at all drug stores in Portsmouth.—Advertisement.

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Dear Dolly—I am a little boy of nine. I always wanted a little dog to play with but my mother is afraid that it might bite me or go mad. Dolly, do you think I ought to have a dog? Please answer this in your column.

LONESOME BOY
I think every nice little boy should have a nice little dog, providing of course, that his parents are willing that he should have one. There are all kinds of dogs, and some are more apt to go mad than others, but I think if you will get a nice little affectionate puppy, and train it up right, there is not much danger of it biting you.

Miss Dolly Wise—I am a widow and I would like very much for you to tell me if I could get the widow's pension or not, and if so, who must see about it. My husband died here in Portsmouth and I was told about widows getting pensions, so I want you to tell me all about it.

I THANK YOU
There is no widow's pension, except for soldiers' widows. There is however, a mother's pension that is paid to dependent mothers whenever the county commissioners have enough money to do so. For further particulars consult the probate judge.

Dear Dolly—Will you please print a list of names for boys and girls.

A MOTHER
For boys I like short name like John, Jim, Bob, Bill, Dan, Dave, Dick, Frank, George, Mike, Pat, etc. For girls, how about one of these, Mary, Jane, Martha, Ella, Joan, Julia, Alice, Helen, Edith, Edna, Florence, Louise, Kathryn, Ursula, Mita, Isabel, Jean, Sara, etc.

Franklin Furnace, Ohio. Dear Dolly—Is a man who will steal a man's dog a fit person to serve as a prohibition officer? Do you think a man who would disobey the laws himself is the right kind of a person to make others obey the law? Dolly what do you think of a man who will desert his own home and meddle in the affairs of others that do not concern him in the least.

ANXIOUS TO KNOW
A man who would steal a dog should be added to the list of "meanest men in the world", and a person who meddles in another person's business might as well be put in the same class.

Dear Dolly—Will you please answer my question: What states is it that a girl under 21 years can get married without her parents' consent? My parents live in New Jersey, so I don't want to go there to get married and I think it would be all right to tell a story if anything else, don't you? Would it be swearing a lie if anyone would give their age a year older? What kind of coats are going to be in style this winter?

BODDIE
I would advise you to wait until you are 21, unless you want to go to the trouble of having your parents send an affidavit here giving their consent to your marriage. There are coats to suit every taste, and every pocket book, so the best thing for you to do, is to take a day off and visit the ready-to-wear departments of our local stores, and see what a fine array of coats they have for your inspection.

MRS. A. T. D.—Just because you did not get any calls for the article you advertised is no reason why you should not advertise it again some time. Perhaps no one is in need of an invalid's chair at this particular time, however, if I hear of anyone wanting one I will let you know.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barton

WHAT HAPPENED ON MARS

"Who's there?" asked the old man sticking his head out of a window in the stone wall beside the gate.

"The Twins held tight to Snoozle on the night-sky's back. Snoozle was the oldest son of the Dream Maker Man and he was searching for Tweedkane who had stolen the sleepy sand from the Sand Man."

"Giddap!" said Snoozle, and the white night-mare, went club-a-lub, club-a-lub, club-a-lub, along the Milky Way straight toward Mars.

And pretty soon they got there and knocked at the gate. "Inta-tat-tat! Inta-tat-tat!"

"Who's there?" asked an old man with a green beard and blue hair and a nose like a cucumber, full of bumps and ridges and very, very long. He was first cousin to the Moon Man, but nobody would have known it, he being so queer "in all. But then all the people of Mars were queer and no two were alike."

"Who's there?" asked the old man sticking his head out of a window in the stone wall beside the gate.

"Us," said Nancy. "Did Tweedkane the gnome come here with a sack of sand?"

"No," said the old man. "That's what I said," declared Nancy impatiently. "He's a gnome and he's a rascal, too. Did you see him?"

"No," said the queer old fellow again with a shake of his head. "Leastwise I didn't see him. But then I've been asleep. On Mars everybody sleeps while he works and all the guards sleep on duty. As I am on duty ninety-one hours every day, I sleep most of the time. If he was a good climber he could get over the wall and I, wouldn't see him."

He may be on Mars and then again he may not be on Mars, and if he is on Mars I—

"My goodness! What a wordy old fellow!" said Nick to Snoozle. "I'll fix him." So he said "Timmy Jimmy" just like that and the door in the wall swung open and the night-mare clattered through, before the astonished cousin of the Moon Man got half way through with his pompous speech.

It was getting dark on Mars and all the people in all the houses were blowing out their lights. Because on Mars things are just the opposite of what they are any place else.

JACK DAW'S ADVENTURES — THRILLS OF INDIA.

Jack watched Flop for a while and then asked the aviator if they would land some place for the night. The pilot, however, had nothing to do but to land and he knew that darkness was not far away. The aviator handed a small box over his shoulder which Jack reached out and took.

BY ELTON

"That's a bite of lunch," said the flyer. "I think we will ride on through the night and if I make good time we will land somewhere in India in the morning." Jack opened the box lunch and he and Flop started to eat it. In an instant Flop joined them and also nibbled on some food. (Continued.)

What You Should Know about a baby's care

Illness is usually due to constipation.
Quickly give half a teaspoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

THE young mother should waigh which foods the baby relishes most, and their quantity cause distress, and act accordingly.

The good health of a baby is largely a matter of intelligent attention to diet.
Nevertheless, in spite of your efforts you will sometimes notice belching, flatulence, wind and symptoms of colicky pain.

Give half a teaspoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and the baby will be happy. Syrup Pepsin is a laxative admirably suited to infants and children, as it is mild and wholly free from opiates and narcotics.

If you defer in giving it you will soon find the baby suffering from constipation, and that may lead to more serious illness. Half a teaspoonful promptly given will avoid trouble.

Many thousands of mothers have never given their babies any other medicine but Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and they have successfully raised large and sturdy families. The formula is not a secret, being a combination of Egyptian senna with pepsin, and agreeable aromatics. The ingredients are stated on the package. Mrs. Dewey Walker, Elida, N. M., and Mrs. R. H. Higginbotham, Ozer Creek, Fla., are among the many who are firm believers that Syrup Pepsin has kept their families and themselves in good health.

No family with young children can afford to be without such a household medicine. It is effective, beneficial and safe regardless of your age and has been considered so for over thirty years. In consequence it is today the largest selling liquid laxative in the world, over 10 million bottles being sold annually.

You will find that Syrup Pepsin quickly brings relief in the severest chronic constipation, biliousness, lack of appetite, sleeplessness, headache, cankers, bad breath, and to stop a cold or fever.

Every druggist sells it, and the cost on the average is less than a cent a dose. It is guaranteed to be effective in these symptoms or your money will be refunded.

Free Sample Bottle Coupon

There are people who very rightly prefer to try a

The Family Laxative

Hucksters and Peddlers are Licensed By City Council; Many New Lights Placed

The city council held a short session, Wednesday night, disposing of a heavy docket of routine matters in the time with the result that the meeting was one of the shortest in recent months. The entire membership was present and President Albert Weghorst wielded the gavel and speeded up the proceedings.

Several articles of legislation were passed during the evening, the principal measure providing for the licensing of hucksters and peddlers, and fixing the fee at $20 a year payable in advance, but exempting persons actually raising their entire products or making their own merchandise, who are required to pay a fee of only twenty-five cents to merely cover the cost of issuing the license. The ordinance which does not apply to honorably discharged soldiers and sailors carries with it a penalty of $10 to $200 on conviction. The fee for a single day is fixed at $5.00.

New Light Places Assigned
A report from the light and water committee, composed of Members Ray H. Durendek, Owen Hopkins and E.
A. Steadman, was adopted, and the service department was instructed to place lights at the following streets:
Third street, at Armory.
On curve in lower Arzonne.
Tenth street below Offshore.
Third street, west of Brown.
Dever street, North Moreland addition.
Mahert road at foot of Riffe hill.
Twenty-first and Summit streets.
Mickelthwait road at Twenty-third.

Oakland and Sunrise avenue.
Twenty-third street and Sunrise avenue.

Twenty-third and Waller streets.
Twenty-fourth and Waller streets.
Bliggs avenue and Scioto Trail.
Scioto Trail, half way between Bertha avenue and Twentieth street.
Harding avenue and Nutor Hill road.

Star Yards at street car stop.
Winchester avenue, Todd corner.
Marshall avenue and street railway crossing.

Bonsar avenue at Kiff's store.
The public property committee was instructed to investigate status of improvements to the Ohio river grade authorized by the last council, and report back to the present body. It is understood that Kelley Bros. were given two contracts, one of which they fulfilled at it is claimed, a loss of money.

Urges Better Conditions
Fire Chief Robert Leedom urges the necessity of bettering water conditions in Second street, west of Chillicothe, at the same time other improvements to the street are being made, and his recommendation was referred to the street committee.

Action on proposed relief for road conditions in Milldale road was deferred while the street committee investigates property title to the thoroughfare.

A bond issue for $80,507 was authorized to pay property owner's share of certain street and alley improvements, pending collection of assessments.

An estimate of 6,822 for the cost of repaving Grandview avenue, between Twenty-first and Twenty-third streets.

An estimate for an Inverted Culvert at Lawson's Run and the B. & O. and N. & W. railway tracks, providing for a cost of $1,366.37, was referred to the street and sewer committee.

Legislation extending the fire zones was recommended by the fire chief and this proposition was referred to the ordinance committee.

Engineer Stevenson submitted an estimate on the cost of the proposed North Moreland sewer, fixing the proposed cost at $20,313.25, $18,032.50 would be the city's cost, and 6,850.75
New Boston village's cost.

The estimate has not yet been presented to the New Boston council.

Seek Police Protection
The North Moreland Welfare Association, in a verbal petition, urged that council station a policeman in that addition at night-time, declaring public safety and welfare merited such protection.

Mayor Calvert recommended naming of an estimated board, to determine assessments on sewer construction work. The matter was referred to the street committee for legislation.

A committee from the Motion Picture Operators' Association was presented and petitioned council to pass legislation providing for a license for such operators. The matter was referred to the ordinance committee.

Erection of sidewalks on Gallia street from the little Scioto river to Lindsey Hollow, and the improvement of Pennsylvania Alley were approved in resolutions adopted.

Engineer Stevenson, in a communication, asked council for better office facilities. His request was referred to the public property committee.

WOMAN'S PART IN BANKING PRAISED

CHICAGO, Oct. 2.—Woman's role as a financier was acclaimed, and her reputed role as a peace-maker questioned by Mrs. Mabel T. Reineck, Chicago, United States collector of internal revenue, in an address tonight before the National Association of Bank Women, meeting here in connection with the American Bankers' Association.

After a day in which the American Bankers' Association had heard Lt.
Polkhouse, assistant secretary of war, and "the nation's worst liability," the National Association of Bank Women
attended to an address by Miss Jan-Adams, Chicago.

Following the addresses of the day before the American Bankers' Association in which "the element in business" in general and "the element in particular" in a series of "arch denunciations" without dissent the resolutions deprecating government ownership of railroad and limitation of the power of the supreme court.

GOVERNMENT PRESENTS CASE AGAINST POTBIER IN CRONKHITE KILLING

TACOMA, Wash., Oct. 2.—The federal government today through J. W.
Osborne, special prosecutor, stated the case it expects to prove against Roland Potbier, on trial in federal court for the murder of Major Alexander Cronk-hite.

After Mr. Osborne had concluded, two witnesses were called to identify the spot at Camp Lewis where Major Cronkhitte met his death October, 25, 1918, while on a practice march, with the 23th engineers.

In his opening address, Mr. Osborne laid stress on the alleged impossibility of Major Cronkhitte's wound being self-inflicted, and also on the different confessions claimed to have been made by Potbier.

EX-LOAN COMPANY CLEVELAND, O., OCT. 2.—HARRY A. PERRIS and Fred D. Baker, former vice presidents of the Municipal Savings & Loan company, tried jointly on a charge of certifying to a false financial state- ment, were found guilty by a jury in common pleas court here today.

of four other former officials of the Municipal and the Representative Realty Company are disposed of.

SEN. JOHNSON POLITICAL STORM CENTER IN CALIF. SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 2.—U. S. Senator Hiram W. Johnson was more or less the political storm center in California today.

Supporters of Senator Robert M. La-Follette were attempting to reach him with every argument as to why he should join the LaFollette-for-president movement.

The Coolidge forces, to which Johnson as a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination presumably would be loyal, were reported equally active in their attempts to bring from the senator a direct statement urging election of President Coolidge.

weather bureau's crop report.

FINE FOR OLD FOLKS

Take Haley's Magnesia-Oil—milk of magnesia and mineral oil combined

When nature relaxes her vigilance and permits the bowels to become clogged with accumulated waste matter, a table-spoonful of Haley's Magnesia-Oil, one or twice a day, will restore the bowels to their normal activity.

A perfect combination of milk of magnesia and pure mineral oil, Haley's Magnesia-Oil provides at one time an efficient antidote for disordered stomach, and a most natural lubricant for the bowels.

The mineral oil carries the milk of magnesia straight to the lower bowels, where it is most required. It is harmless, causes no griping or nausea, and has only the palatable taste of magnesia which is lost entirely when it is mixed with milk.

Buy a bottle of Haley's Magnesia-Oil today and keep it always on hand. If your druggist can't supply you we will mail postpaid on receipt of price, Trial

DUPLEX—a new name —for a new type car you have never seen before!

A closed and open car combined—the advantages of both at an open car price!

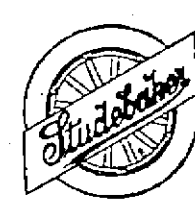

STANDARD SIX DUPLIX-PHAETON

$1145
f. o. b. factories

No other car in its price-range has this combination of features:

New Duplex Body.
Real Balloon Tires.
Inclined valve engine.
Crankshaft and connecting rods machined on all surfaces for vibrationless balance.
Genuine chrome-plated Spanish leather.
All the usual equipment—plus a high grade clock, a dash gage, automatic windshield wiper and lighting switch on steering wheel.

New Studebaker 4-Wheel Hydraulic Brakes—optional equipment. Automatic braking power.

ONE minute the DUPLEX is a comfortable, weather-tight closed car—deeply cushioned and richly appointed. In less than thirty seconds it becomes a delightful open car, with all the unhindered freedom every motorist likes and enjoys. Its double utility satisfied a most urgent need—it is as revolutionary as the self-starter and electric lights.

And the price is the same as that of the open car—with advantages in finish, fittings, room and comfort no open car could ever give!

Framed and shaped in steel, the upper part of the Duplex Body is built integrally with the lower part—it functions perfectly with the lower part—it is permanently beautiful.

But even without the "double-value" of the Duplex Body the new Standard Six would still be the same great Studebaker success. For its introduction marks the beginning of an era in the automobile industry when fine cars of real quality, plenty of room and comfort, impressive appearance, splendid power and performance may be had at a price the average buyer can afford to pay.

Surpassing mechanical superiority is obvious in every mile you drive it. Power, smoothness, silence you expect in any good six-cylinder car; but in this great car your expectations will be exceeded. You cannot anticipate such performance-perfection in any car even within hundreds of dollars of the new Studebaker Standard Six price.

The proof is easy to establish—drive
it yourself, try it out on your favorite hill, test its speed on the straight-away. Sense what "ease of operation" really means in terms of effortless steering, velvety clutch action, easy gear shifting and instant brake application.

Experience what real comfort means in plenty of room, soft deep cushions; genuine balloon tires; long, supple springs.

The new Standard Six will tell you a story as it has never been told before by any other car at the Standard Six price.

Whether you are in the market now or next year—you should see this new Studebaker. It is a car that will revolutionize values in the automobile industry!

State and Purdue Clash Saturday

CHICAGO, October 2. — Whether Ohio State can repeat its 32 to 0 victory over Purdue of last year is a moot question as both teams complete preparations for their clash Saturday.

A defeat for either means virtually elimination from Big Ten championship consideration. Both squads are acquiring a high state of polish. The Buckeyes are minus Hoge Workman, ace of last year's attack, but have Ollie Klee, a fast and elusive back, Captain Young, a stellar performer at Center

MANCHESTER, O., Oct. 2.—(Special to the Times)—A special meeting

New Treatment For Varicose Or Swollen Veins

Swollen veins are dangerous and often burst. Sufferers are advised to get a two-ounce, original bottle of Emerald Oil (full strength), at Fisher & Strach's Pharmacy, and start to reduce the veins and blemishes at once.

Physicians recommend Emerald Oil. It is used in hospital practice and a small bottle will last a long time, because it is very concentrated and a little goes a long way. Apply night and morning with a soft brush as directed until the swelling is reduced to normal. It is guaranteed.

So marvelously powerful is Emerald Oil that enlarged glands, veins and even goitres disappear when used steadily.

of Council has been called for tonight when resolutions are expected to be drafted asking Governor Vic Donahey to remove Mayor Milburn Boone from office.

This village has been stirred by a story concerning Mayor Boone, 30, married, and the father of two children. Last Thursday night it is alleged that Herman Roush, round Mayor Boone with Roush's 15-year-old sister in a parked auto in a field about a mile from town. Roush is said to have approached the machine with drawn revolver and opened fire. The Roush girl is said to have struck her brother's arm, stopping his aim.

Mayor Boone is reported to have dashed away, Roush firing three more shots at him. Sheriff Trefftz was called here, it is reported, by Mayor Boone, who reported to that officer he feared mob violence.

At a meeting of Council Monday night, when his resignation was asked for, he refused, stating that it was all a frame-up and that he is innocent. He is a teacher in the Ginger Ridge school and continues to teach. School Board members are awaiting advice from the prosecuting attorney, it is said.

Herman Roush, brother of the girl, appeared at the juvenile court, and swore to an affidavit and James Roush, her father, swore to a warrant in the court of Mayor W. W. Williams at West Union.

Deputy Sheriff White arrested Boone, who was taken before Mayor Williams, who remanded him to the Common Pleas Court, and he was released under a $400 bond, with Harry Gray and Joseph Craycraft as sureties.

Milburn Boone, a Republican, was nominated for Mayor last fall and ran on an independent ticket against Harry Osborn, the then incumbent. He had the support of the Ku Klux Klan and defeated his opponent by about 65 votes. He was known as a 100 per cent reform mayor.

Twelve Women on Jury; Greenup Case Is Deferred

GREENUP, K., Oct. 2.—(Special to the Times)—Recently Policeman Gilley of Chilnashie searched the home of Mrs. Anna Bussell for Petty and alleged he found a little moccasin. She was charged with possessing intoxicating liquor. Mrs. Bussell retained Attorney E. E. Fullerton of this place to defend her and yesterday, when the case came up for hearing at Chilnashie, Attorney Fullerton refused to go ahead with the case, on the grounds that every member of the jury was a woman and that a fair trial would not result. Plans were then made to hold the trial at a later date in Greenup, when it is hoped a mixed jury will be secured.

All members of the Fraternal Order of Eagles are requested to be present at the meeting tonight. Business of importance.

Harris Stars On Basketball Floor

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., Oct. 2.—Stanley Harris, youthful pilot of the Washington American league club which Monday earned the right to tackle the New York Giants for the world's baseball title has other accomplishments besides being a first rate second sacker and a fine base ball strategist according to Louis H. Stolz of this city, president of the New York state baseball league.

The Senator manager, who is the first pilot to bring a pennant to Washington, also enjoys the distinction of helping Glenn Falls win its first basketball championship. Harris played a guard position on the Glenn Falls quintet last season, and it was mainly through his defensive work and clever scoring ability that Glenn Falls was able to win the league title.

Along with Harry Ricorda, a member of the Philadelphia Athletics, who played basketball with Schenectady in the league, Harris was rated as the best guard in the state circuit. In basketball circles, he is nicknamed "Bucky." He began his court career at Pittsford, Pa.

Looking for City Slicker Who Fleeced Former Local Citizen

CINCINNATI, Oct. 2.—Royal E. Padgett, of Portsmouth, a student, after scrutinizing the rogue's gallery at police headquarters in the hope that he might catch a glimpse of the pictures of three men who swindled him out of $1,000, said he could not identify any of the photographs.

Meanwhile, police here and in Covington searching for the men who by pulling a picture of a "killing" at the Lathen race induced Padgett to loan his money. Padgett, after hearing the story which he said was told to him by a man who he said was "Mr. Blake" went to his home, withdrew accumulated savings of $1,000 and returned to Covington, Ky., where he met "Mr. Blake" at the railroad station.

Padgett is a former employee of the Norfolk and Western Railway Co., and left here recently to attend school in Cincinnati. He was a visitor in Portsmouth last Saturday night, and was advised by local friends against the investment.

RHEUMATISM

A Remarkable Home Treatment Given by One Who Had It.

In the year of 1893, I was attacked by Muscular and Subacute Rheumatism. I suffered as only those who are thus afflicted know, for over three years. I tried remedy after remedy, but such relief as I obtained was only temporary. Finally, I found a treatment that cured me completely, and such a pitiful condition has never returned. I have given it to a number who were terribly afflicted, even bed-ridden, some of them seventy to eighty years old, and the results were the same as in my own case.

I want every sufferer from any form of muscular and subacute (swelling at the joints) rheumatism, to try the great value of my improved "Home Treatment" for its remarkable healing power. Don't send a cent; simply mail your name and address and I will send it free to try. After you have used it and it has proven itself to be that long-looked-for means of getting rid of such forms of rheumatism, you may send the price of it, one dollar, but understand, I do not want your money unless you are perfectly satisfied to send it. Isn't that fair? Why suffer any longer when relief is thus offered you free? Don't delay. Write today.

offer to pay somebody $500 solely for their own money, to have something crooked done that would benefit many other persons besides themselves. It is safe to say that the two named would never consent to stand all the expense. Others were to profit and I feel sure that if the investigation is carried far enough others will be found guilty.

"Commissioner Landis should go a great deal further with his probe. The case must not be dropped here, for I am convinced in my own mind that there are other guilty parties in the back ground and that if the case is pushed far enough there will be developments that will warrant other expulsions. The matter should not be allowed to drop with the punishment of a couple of goats. Baseball cannot stand for anything like this. Even if it is necessary to abolish the world's series the good name of the sport must be protected. Calling off of the world's series would not be too far to go to get the right results."

Landis

in Washington today in an effort to discover who put the $500 into the hands of the substitute outfielder, who originated the scheme now credited to Dolan and to what extent it was practiced during the season. People over the length and breadth of the land who yesterday forgot business and politics and ordinary affairs of life to rejoice with the national capital as it received its heroes, people who had prepared for a real celebration as the new baptism of popular approval of the national game, today try to understand the circumstances of the situation sketchedly presented by Commissioner Landis in his announcement.

Sand Hero of Scandal
Heinie Sand, Philadelphia shortstop, looms as the hero in baseball's latest family tragedy. The commission acted upon information furnished by Sand who charged that O'Connell had offered $500 to him to "throw" the game between the Giants and Phillies on September 27. New York won the contest, 5 to 1, and clinched the pennant.

O'Connell, president before the commissioner, President Heyler of the National League, and John McGraw, manager of the Giants, confessed to offering the bribe and implicated Cozy Dolan, coach of the team. Captain Frank Frisch, George Kelly and Ross Young, the latter trio composing the backbone of the team.

Frisch, Kelly and Young were completely absolved by the commissioner following a hearing, but Dolan, whose testimony in favor of himself, was of "such a character as to be unacceptable," the commissioner said, was blamed as the man who instigated the plot.

Immediately after announcing the story to the Associated Press, in New York, Commissioner Landis, now pointed by his wife, left for Washington.

Manager McGraw and the members of the New York team are scheduled to leave at 3:25 this afternoon for Washington. Although none had left the city last night, Captain Frank Frisch was the first to leave, followed by the other players.

Frisch says Dolan should be punished.

MY DAUGHTER WOULD CRY AT EVERYTHING

Nervous and Irritable. By Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Became Entirely Normal

Clinton, Wisconsin.—"My daughter was in a very nervous condition, and was irritable, and would cry at everything. I was so weak and nervous, and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had helped me when I was a girl. I gave it to her to build her up, and the results were all that we could wish for. I wish that every mother with growing girls would try it for these troubles girls often have. I had taken it myself before my girl was born, and she was the healthiest baby any one could wish to have. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to women and girls and cannot praise it too highly." — Mrs. I. A. Holford, Box 18, Clinton, Wisconsin.

Pinkham's Compound can be found in every drug store. It is the only medicine that will cure all the troubles girls often have. They know from experience the value of the Vegetable Compound in the treatment of these complaints and many, like Mrs. Holford, give it to their daughters.

Stops Itching

Peterson's Ointment

To the millions of grateful sufferers who know about the mighty healing power of Peterson's Ointment for skin and scalp itching, it never disappoints. All druggists, 50c. per tin. — Ad.

"I was dumbfounded when called before Commissioner Landis," Frisch said. "I hope the whole matter will be cleared to the bottom and that if any player has been guilty of wrong doing he will be properly punished."

Neither Manager McGraw, President Starnham, Secretary Tierney nor Treasurer McQuade of the Giants, could be located. Starnham is awaiting trial in federal court on November 10 in connection with the failure of a brokerage firm of which he was a member.

Dolan, to whom present implication points the most severe finger, has been a base running coach for McGraw since 1921. He was formerly an infielder on the Phillies, Pirates, Reds, Cardinals and Yankees and has been playing professional ball for the last twenty of his thirty-seven years.

The newest blow to baseball has landed most heavily on the Pacific Coast where Jimmy O'Connell, $75,000 "Beauty" purchased by New York in 1921, but who did not report until the end of 1922, occupied the same relative position in public esteem that Babe Ruth now holds in the national field.

O'Connell's failure immediately to burn up the National League was attributed by his admirers to homesickness and youth. They have been patiently waiting for "Jimmy" to fulfill the promise of a bright future.

Manager Fletcher, of the Phillies, could not be reached, and Sand, when located at Hazleton, Penna., would not amplify Commissioner Landis' account of his part in the affair.

Recalls 1919 Scandal

CHICAGO, Oct. 2.—Commissioner Landis' action today in declaring two members of the New York Giants ineligible for the world series after bribery charges were investigated, recalled the biggest baseball scandal in the history of the national game—that following the 1919 world series between the Chicago White Sox and Cincinnati Reds. Nearly a year after the 1919 series and after a Chicago newspaper told of an alleged attempt to fix a game, a Cook county grand jury indicted eight members of the White Sox, two former major league players, two gamblers and a former world champion pugilist on charges that they conspired with individual White Sox players to throw the series to the Cincinnati team and that some players accepted bribes as high as $10,000 to deliberately throw games.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Oct. 2.—Jimmy O'Connell, substitute outfielder of the New York National League baseball club, declared ineligible to play in the world series, was born in Sacramento 24 years ago and received his education in that city and in San Francisco.

Finishing college, O'Connell played semi-pro ball in and around Sacramento until his work was observed by George Putnam, secretary of the San Francisco baseball club. At that time he was playing first base in a bush league in the Sacramento Valley. Believing that O'Connell was worthy of a trial in the Pacific Coast League, Putnam offered him a contract which he accepted and which started him on the team which eventually made him one of the most discussed baseball players in the United States. O'Connell played with San Francisco two seasons until bought on recommendation of Bill Lange by the McGraw of the Giant in 1921. The price paid for O'Connell was $75,000, the highest price ever given for a baseball player at that time.

Has Confidence In O'Connell

SAN FRANCISCO, October 2.—(By United Press.) "I'll swear by Jimmy. I can't believe he was mixed up in such a thing," Charles Graham, vice president of the local ball team, who was manager of the club at the time O'Connell was its star outfielder, said today. O'Connell was picked up from the Sacramento sand lots in 1920 and was one of the most popular players in the Coast league. His batting aided mightily in bringing San Francisco the pennant in 1922.

Frisch and Kelly Express Surprise

NEW YORK, October 2.—(United Press.)—Captain Frisch of the Giants, believes the team will not be much affected in the world series by the ineligibility of O'Connell and Dolan.

"It is most unfortunate and that is all I can say," he told the United Press. "I knew nothing of the matter until I was called before Commissioner Landis yesterday afternoon. When Baseman Kelly expressed surprise when told of the action."

"I have no statement to make except that to bribe a player of an opposing team has never entered my mind," he said. "I knew nothing amiss before Landis questioned me."

O'Connell Says He Was Made "The Goat" of Scandal

NEW YORK, October 2.—(By United Press.)—A wistful boyish figure, Jimmy O'Connell, Giant outfielder, today was the center of emotional baseball action. Commissioner Landis, offering a bribe to a player on the Philadelphia team, showed up at the club house at the Polo Grounds, today, declaring he had then made the goat in this business.

O'Connell said he was reporting for work as usual, but he had received no official or unofficial notice that he and Coach Cozy Dolan had been placed on the ineligible list.

A forlorn figure, the youngster from the Pacific Coast who had won a place for himself in the affections of giant fans, told how he tried to bribe Dolan, Sand, Phillips' shortstop, to "throw" last Saturday's game, by winning which McGraw's team, officials of the National League pointed, he insisted that he thought the entire Giant team was "in on the deal."

Now he finds himself in a most distressing and odd position, while his teammates are down to Washington for the World's Series in which he had hoped to star.

"I came out here today because I've been coming here for a long time," O'Connell told a reporter for the New York Sun. "It's the rules of the club to report at 10 o'clock. I haven't been told that I've been suspended and I don't know what else to do."

O'Connell's story of the attempted bribe was as follows: "The night I first came to my Saturday night game, I came in the club house. Dolan said to me, 'Jimmy, do you know Sand and Phillips? I replied, 'Yes, I do.' He said, 'I have been friends for years. Both of us are from California, and we've never been on the same team. I want you to help me win this game. I'll give you $500 if you can get Sand and Phillips to throw the game. There's $500 in it for him.'"

"I was dumbfounded when called before Commissioner Landis," Frisch said. "I hope the whole matter will be cleared to the bottom and that if any player has been guilty of wrong doing he will be properly punished."

Neither Manager McGraw, President Starnham, Secretary Tierney nor Treasurer McQuade of the Giants, could be located. Starnham is awaiting trial in federal court on November 10 in connection with the failure of a brokerage firm of which he was a member.

Recalls 1919 Scandal

CHICAGO, Oct. 2.—Commissioner Landis' action today in declaring two members of the New York Giants ineligible for the world series after bribery charges were investigated, recalled the biggest baseball scandal in the history of the national game—that following the 1919 world series between the Chicago White Sox and Cincinnati Reds. Nearly a year after the 1919 series and after a Chicago newspaper told of an alleged attempt to fix a game, a Cook county grand jury indicted eight members of the White Sox, two former major league players, two gamblers and a former world champion pugilist on charges that they conspired with individual White Sox players to throw the series to the Cincinnati team and that some players accepted bribes as high as $10,000 to deliberately throw games.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Oct. 2.—Jimmy O'Connell, substitute outfielder of the New York National League baseball club, declared ineligible to play in the world series, was born in Sacramento 24 years ago and received his education in that city and in San Francisco.

Finishing college, O'Connell played semi-pro ball in and around Sacramento until his work was observed by George Putnam, secretary of the San Francisco baseball club. At that time he was playing first base in a bush league in the Sacramento Valley. Believing that O'Connell was worthy of a trial in the Pacific Coast League, Putnam offered him a contract which he accepted and which started him on the team which eventually made him one of the most discussed baseball players in the United States. O'Connell played with San Francisco two seasons until bought on recommendation of Bill Lange by the McGraw of the Giant in 1921. The price paid for O'Connell was $75,000, the highest price ever given for a baseball player at that time.

Has Confidence In O'Connell

SAN FRANCISCO, October 2.—(By United Press.) "I'll swear by Jimmy. I can't believe he was mixed up in such a thing," Charles Graham, vice president of the local ball team, who was manager of the club at the time O'Connell was its star outfielder, said today. O'Connell was picked up from the Sacramento sand lots in 1920 and was one of the most popular players in the Coast league. His batting aided mightily in bringing San Francisco the pennant in 1922.

Frisch and Kelly Express Surprise

NEW YORK, October 2.—(United Press.)—Captain Frisch of the Giants, believes the team will not be much affected in the world series by the ineligibility of O'Connell and Dolan.

"It is most unfortunate and that is all I can say," he told the United Press. "I knew nothing of the matter until I was called before Commissioner Landis yesterday afternoon. When Baseman Kelly expressed surprise when told of the action."

"I have no statement to make except that to bribe a player of an opposing team has never entered my mind," he said. "I knew nothing amiss before Landis questioned me."

O'Connell Says He Was Made "The Goat" of Scandal

NEW YORK, October 2.—(By United Press.)—A wistful boyish figure, Jimmy O'Connell, Giant outfielder, today was the center of emotional baseball action. Commissioner Landis, offering a bribe to a player on the Philadelphia team, showed up at the club house at the Polo Grounds, today, declaring he had then made the goat in this business.

O'Connell said he was reporting for work as usual, but he had received no official or unofficial notice that he and Coach Cozy Dolan had been placed on the ineligible list.

A forlorn figure, the youngster from the Pacific Coast who had won a place for himself in the affections of giant fans, told how he tried to bribe Dolan, Sand, Phillips' shortstop, to "throw" last Saturday's game, by winning which McGraw's team, officials of the National League pointed, he insisted that he thought the entire Giant team was "in on the deal."

Now he finds himself in a most distressing and odd position, while his teammates are down to Washington for the World's Series in which he had hoped to star.

"I came out here today because I've been coming here for a long time," O'Connell told a reporter for the New York Sun. "It's the rules of the club to report at 10 o'clock. I haven't been told that I've been suspended and I don't know what else to do."

O'Connell's story of the attempted bribe was as follows: "The night I first came to my Saturday night game, I came in the club house. Dolan said to me, 'Jimmy, do you know Sand and Phillips? I replied, 'Yes, I do.' He said, 'I have been friends for years. Both of us are from California, and we've never been on the same team. I want you to help me win this game. I'll give you $500 if you can get Sand and Phillips to throw the game. There's $500 in it for him.'"

"I was dumbfounded when called before Commissioner Landis," Frisch said. "I hope the whole matter will be cleared to the bottom and that if any player has been guilty of wrong doing he will be properly punished."

Neither Manager McGraw, President Starnham, Secretary Tierney nor Treasurer McQuade of the Giants, could be located. Starnham is awaiting trial in federal court on November 10 in connection with the failure of a brokerage firm of which he was a member.

Dolan, to whom present implication points the most severe finger, has been a base running coach for McGraw since 1921. He was formerly an infielder on the Phillies, Pirates, Reds, Cardinals and Yankees and has been playing professional ball for the last twenty of his thirty-seven years.

The newest blow to baseball has landed most heavily on the Pacific Coast where Jimmy O'Connell, $75,000 "Beauty" purchased by New York in 1921, but who did not report until the end of 1922, occupied the same relative position in public esteem that Babe Ruth now holds in the national field.

O'Connell's failure immediately to burn up the National League was attributed by his admirers to homesickness and youth. They have been patiently waiting for "Jimmy" to fulfill the promise of a bright future.

Manager Fletcher, of the Phillies, could not be reached, and Sand, when located at Hazleton, Penna., would not amplify Commissioner Landis' account of his part in the affair.

WASHINGTON WILL RELY ON PITCHING TO WIN THE BASEBALL CLASSIC

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—(By the A. P.)—With Walter Johnson, veteran ace of Washington's sharp shooting corps, as the outstanding figure, pitching may be the decisive factor of the 1924 world's series between the Senators and the New York Giants. Until recent years, twirling was usually the most potent factor in the diamond title struggle, but with the advent of the lively ball and the Babe Ruthian home runs, the game has shifted to figure largely but it has been the speed and power of attack that decided the last three world championship battles between the Giants and the Yankees.

John McGraw won the premier baseball crown in both 1921 and 1922 from the Yankees with the effectiveness of his offense. His hurling staff both years was rated inferior to the "five star" Yankee corps. Last year it is true the utter collapse of the Giant moundmen, headed by the Yankee victor but the mighty bats of the Huggens were the most potent influence.

This year, however, with a less lively ball, pitching may come into its own again. The big four of the Washington staff, Johnson, Zachary, Mortiz and Marberry, put the club in front, although it was attacking power that kept it there in the final drive. Supporters of the Senators, figuring they have the edge on the Giants in the box, believe twirling will carry Washington's first pennant winner to the greatest heights in the game, but Giant rotters are equally confident that Neff, Bentley, McQuillan and Barnes will offer a potent rebuttal.

Whatever the merits of the rival twirling corps, however, interest will center in the achievements of Johnson, probably the only ball player of all time who rivals in popular esteem the former Giant marvel, Christy Mathewson. Johnson, a public idol, not only because of his brilliant playing record over an 18 year span, but also because of his sterling qualities as a sportsman, will pitch the first game for the Senators. Outside of the most rabid of Giant partisans, fans throughout the country are rooting for him in unison that day. Even the tense rivalry lost in the all vital question of struggle for team honors will be what Johnson will do upon reaching the goal of his great career.

The Senator's chief hope, too, will center around the big westerner whose speed ball has fanned more batters than any other pitcher in the game's history. If Johnson, after one of the most successful seasons he has ever had, can carry his old stamina and form into the series, Mathewson will be in the ascendency. Johnson, in his prime, has twirled and won three games on successive playing days. He performed that feat against New York in 1908. His arm could not stand such a strain now but if he is able to meet the brunt of the Senator's mound work, the Giants will find a difficult barrier to break down.

Johnson's major league record over 18 seasons is studded with marvelous achievements. He holds by a wide margin the world's strike out record. With the completion of this season, he had passed the 3200 mark and is practically 1000 ahead of his nearest rival, Mathewson. He led the American League marksmen in this respect this year for the 12th time. Old time baseball players say that when Johnson was in his prime his "smoke ball" was virtually untouchable.

The "Kansas cyclone" has won 359 games, only 13 less than Mathewson. With a tall end club most of the time, Johnson's winning record all the more remarkable. In 1913, his greatest year, he worked in 51 games, winning 26 and losing 7, putting his club almost single-handed into second place, the highest position it ever held until this season. He won 16 consecutive games in 1912, an American league record which he shared with Joe Wood.

He is also the shutout king of all time by a wide margin, having run his record up to 107 this year. In 1912 he was not scored on in 56 consecutive innings.

Only "Cy" Young has topped Johnson's record of service. "Cy" was in the majors 22 seasons, 12 in the National and 10 in the American but Sir Walter heads the record for length of service in the American. Johnson having spent all his 18 seasons with Washington. Mathewson was 17 years in the National. Johnson was born in Humboldt, Kansas, and will be 37 next November 6, two days before his young manager, Stanley Harris will reach his 25th birthday. Johnson, who stands six feet one inch and weighs 195, was with the Tacoma, Wash., club for one season. The following year, 1907, he started with the Weiser Idaho club, but joined the Senators before the close of the season.

Senators Return Home; Get Rousing Reception

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—The wheels of government stopped yesterday for the coronation ceremonies of King Baseball, a usurper who after 23 years of exile rode into the national capital at the head of a wildly bearded cabinet—the Washington Senators, pennant winners of the American league.

High ups in government line turned out to join with street urchins in shouting a hearty welcome home from the peace monument to the Ellipse south of the White House. President Coolidge extended an official greeting to the players.

The keynote of the welcome home celebration was sounded by the President who is presenting Manager Stanley Harris with a loving cup from the citizens of the district as sured him that his team had won the affection of the "Home town" constituents.

Thousands of shouting fans, some waving pennants, others waving hats and still others too busy scrambling for points of vantage to wave anything, swarmed around the Ellipse to hear the president.

"As the head of an enterprise which transacts some business in this town," Mr. Coolidge said, "I have the double satisfaction in welcoming home the victorious ball team."

Smiling as he spoke the President said that "when the entire population reached the point of quivering the game to be described play by play, I begin to doubt whether the highest efficiency was being promoted. I contemplated action of a vigorous disciplinary character but the outcome makes it impossible."

"We are a somewhat demoralized community," he added, "but exceedingly happy over it."

The President by leaving his desk to take part in the ceremonies set the fashion for the day, for all Washington apparently swarmed to the avenue. It was about the first time in history that the capital city ever staged its own parade for its own heroes and Washington made the most of it.

Commissioner Landis was on his way to Washington tonight to be here to supervise the arrangements for the series. The mother, wife and two children of Walter Johnson, the Senator's pitching ace, are expected to arrive tomorrow.

the surprise of their lives. Monday night will tell the tale.

Rudity will be in Nig's corner and that means the ace boxer will have plenty of the old confidence. Reports from Huntington are that Jimmie Blair will not hang any trouble trimming Blair, but his predictions may be upset if Nig is in shape, and we have Rudity's word that he is.

Providing the bout goes the limit the boys are scheduled for thirty minutes of mulling. It was first proposed that Dr. Haves of Huntington referee the bout but some of the local fans protested against a Huntington arbiter to Pete Wagner of Chillicothe will be the third man in the circle.

The semi-final will bring together Frankie Sussell of Portsmouth and Dick McDonie of Huntington. McDonie gained fame by putting the sleeper on Jimmie Blankenship a few weeks ago. Other boys on the card are Red Wise, Jack Major, Zip Valentino and Frankie Moore of Huntington, a brother of Eddie Moore.

Ticket reservations may now be made at the Smoke House. Huntington has already over 300 tickets and from all indications the Winter Garden will be jammed to capacity when the first bell rings. Let's go.

With the rumble of Washington in their ears the Giants turned up their emotions for entrance into the frenzy of the Capital City by facing the opposition of the entire population of Sing Sing prison yesterday in a game inside the walls with the Mutual Welfare league nine of the prison. The convicts enjoyed a rare occasion and rooted fiercely for their team.

But the Giants won 11 to 4 and McGraw considered it a good omen. The score by innings:
Giants 010 117 010—11
Mutual Welfare 000 202 000—4
Huntzinger, Neff, Baldwin, Perry and Hartley; Tarryck, Rogers, Jernek and Green, Hogan.

This will be the first annual banquet of the Portsmouth Volley Ball Association and every effort is being made to make it a big success. Ironton Panthers Play Here Sunday Manager Payson Gould, of the MacDonell-Buck Masters' eleven, completed arrangements for the Ironton-Panther-Buck Masters' game here Sunday to be played on the field at Sixteenth and Findlay streets. The game will be a real test of both teams and from advance dope the Panthers have a real team and the locals will be forced to strut their stuff to win.

P. H. S. Eleven Plays In Hamilton Saturday; Team Getting Ready For a Hard Struggle

According to advance dope received here today on the Hamilton High School football squad, the team this year is not as strong as the eleven which represented that school last year. The last year's team defeated the local High School team, 20-0, in being considered the toughest team of the season.

Five letters men are reported to be back on the team this season to carry the Hamilton colors, only four of whom are eligible to play in this Saturday's game. The team is not heavy but is one of the fastest aggregations on the gridiron and will be expected to show plenty of pep against P. H. S. The fact that they are fast was proven in their opening game with Logan last Saturday. Logan being beaten, 48-0.

The Hamilton line is said to be weak. It is light and inexperienced. In the backfield they have real flashes, one of their best backs being Shafer, a half who is playing his first season of football.

The Hamilton team resorted to straight football in their season's opener last Saturday as did P. H. S. The local boys will have to show some real playing this week, however, if they expect to hold Hamilton to a low score.

Captain McComb announces that he had not yet picked his team for this Saturday's game. Another backfield man will be added to the list however, he stated, as Jack Shields, who was ineligible last week, is now ready to re-enter the game.

Blair-Perdue Scrap Will Pack the Winter Garden

There will be a hot time in the old town next Monday night for then is when the boxing fans will have the bout they have been waiting almost two years to see—the Nig Blair-Jimmie Perdue contest. Nothing ever before in this section has aroused interest among the fans like this much-maligned battle and the fan who hangs a sheet down where he can sniff the rosin is going to be a lucky bird. And the boxing bug who figures that Blair is not going to be in condition will probably take another guess when he sees the local star step into the roped arena. Under the driving guidance of Huckle Rudity the Panther has worked faithfully for five weeks and even Hinkle says Nig will give the Huntington delegation

Here Are Leading Batsmen

NEW YORK, October 2.—It was another successful season for "Babe" Ruth. Even if the Bambino didn't accomplish his longing to equal his 1921 record of 50 home runs, he again led his league in hitting, home runs, runs scored, runs batted in, bases on balls and various other slugging and strutting activities. He also was only topped by one man—Hornsby—and led both leagues in home runs.

The leading three batsmen in each league, according to unofficial figures, are:

	Player and Club	Games	H	R	RBI
National League	Bryant, St. Louis	134	227	423	25
White Sox	White Sox	141	212	375	14
Cubs	Young, New York	133	187	355	40

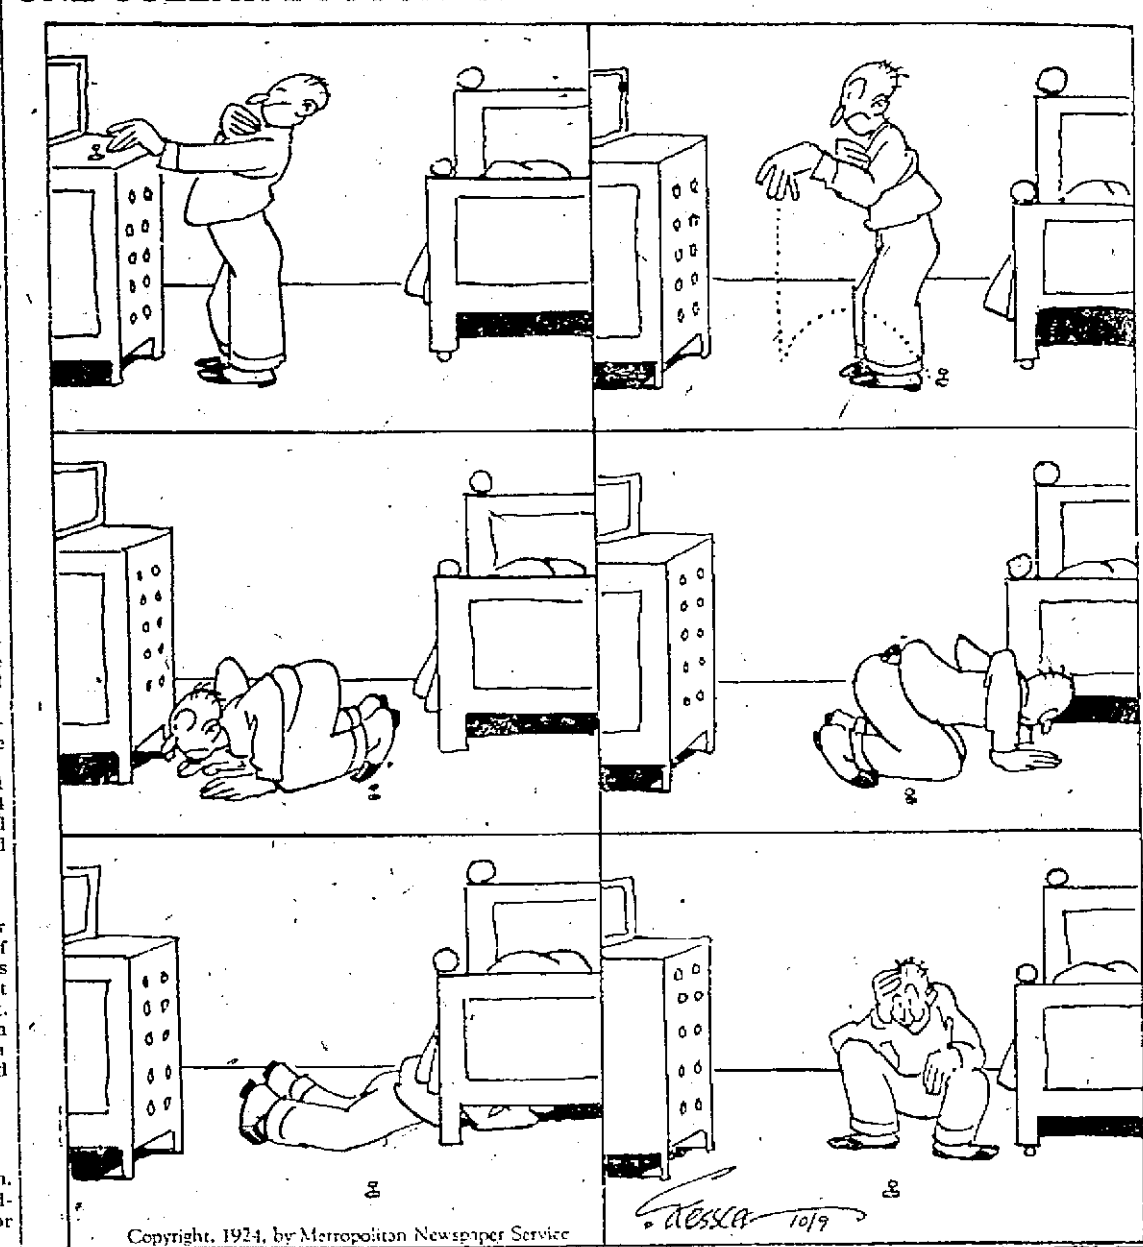

American League
Ruth, New York 153 200 376 16
Jannson, Cleveland 143 214 358 2
Hall, Chicago 138 185 332 6
An odd feature of the work of the big slingers is that Ruth and Hornsby are also home run leaders. Next to the "Babe" are Fournier, Brooklyn, with 27; Hauser, Athletics, 27; Hornsby, 25; Williams, Phillies, 24; and Kelly, Giants, 21.

To Play at Baesman's

The Hon. Williams, Orchestra, which is playing a week's engagement at the Columbia theatre, will play at a reception dance Friday night at Baesman's.

Facts About Child-birth

It has been proven conclusively that much of the suffering, pain and dread experienced during pregnancy, as well as at child-birth is entirely unnecessary.

An eminent physician, Dr. J. H. Holmes, expert in this science, first produced the great remedy "Mother's Friend," which aids the muscles and tissues to expand more easily, during the constant readjustment, month after month, right up to the climax of child-birth.

"Mother's Friend" is applied externally. Three generations of expectant mothers have used it. "Pains disappeared in two days after using 'Mother's Friend,'" writes a user. "I owe my life to 'Mother's Friend.'" declared another. Use "Mother's Friend" as our mothers and grandmothers did. Start today and experience the wonderful comfort it will give you.

Write to Bradford Regulator Co., Dept. B-10, Atlanta, Ga. for free booklet giving many facts every expectant mother should know. 'Mother's Friend' is sold at all good drug stores—everywhere.

The Empire Grange Fair Committee held another meeting at their hall Saturday evening to complete final arrangements for the coming annual fair to be held October 23 and 24.

The premiums cover a large range of exhibits which should appeal strongly enough to make the attendance and exhibits on the opening day the best this year of any previous one. The success of these falls depends on the success of the fair—those to whom it belongs—the farmers of the surrounding communities. Besides better and more exhibits of farm products and livestock plans are complete for an entertaining program that will provide something interesting after the displays have been seen. You and the best products of your farm are needed. You will not only advertise yourself and your business, but you will add measurably to the success of the fair and the agricultural prestige of the community.

OAK HILL

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel D. Morgan was the scene of a festive occasion Wednesday, October 1, when the children and grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. Morgan gathered to celebrate their golden wedding anniversary. It was the first time in years that the entire family had enjoyed a day together, and it was a day long to be remembered. At the noon hour a sumptuous dinner was enjoyed and the remainder of the day passed in reminiscences and conversation. Several group pictures were secured, which will be treasured in the days when the family ties are broken. Mr. and Mrs. Morgan were recipients of 45 dollars in gold, a gift from the children.

A brief sketch of their lives will be of interest, especially to the older readers as Mr. and Mrs. Morgan are of Jackson County practically all of their lives.

Daniel D. Morgan was one of eight children of David and Jane Morgan, and was born at Moriah, December 12, 1845.

David Morgan, his father, was born in Wales and came to this country in 1834, when 17 years of age. He spent practically all his life on the farm at Moriah, with the exception of a few years which were spent in Cincinnati, Ohio. During his stay in Cincinnati, he worked in a boiler yard and it was while engaged in this work that he lost his hearing.

Jane Morgan, his wife and mother of Daniel, D., was also a native of Wales, and came to this country a few years after that of her husband. She was 61 years of age at the time of her death, while her husband lived until he was 84.

Of the eight children but three are living. Daniel D. Morgan and David L. Morgan, of Oak Hill, and Mrs. W. W. Hughes, of Moriah.

Jane Thomas Morgan was a daughter of Evan and Catherine Thomas, also of Wales. She was one of four children, three girls and one boy, and was born August 1, 1832. The only brother, Thomas T. Thomas, of Oak Hill, died but a few months ago, leaving none of the immediate family, except Mrs. Morgan.

On October 1, 1874, she was united in marriage to Daniel D. Morgan, a neighbor boy. The wedding took place at her father's home, and one of the interesting things her children and grandchildren never tire of hearing her tell is about her father walking from their home at Moriah to Jackson the day before the wedding to buy her a wedding wrap, a beautiful Paisley shawl. Mrs. Morgan still has the shawl in a good state of preservation and it is one of her most cherished possessions.

Mr. and Mrs. Morgan went to housekeeping on a farm at Moriah, where they lived for 45 years, coming to Oak Hill four years ago, April 13, 1919. They were the parents of nine children, three of whom have passed away, Jennie, at the age of 8 months; Jane, 15 years, and Evan, aged 23. Those who are living today are David, Kate, Alice, Arthur, John V., and Clifford. Three of the boys, Arthur, John and Clifford, saw active service during the World War.

Of fourteen grandchildren, twelve are living and were present at the celebration. Some of the cut flowers used in the decoration of the rooms were taken to the grave of their favorite granddaughter, Miss Anna Jane Hughes, who died a year ago on September 11.

A lot of sadness was prevalent when it was brought to mind that this celebration was one of the days looked forward to by Miss Hughes before she was stricken with her fatal illness.

Those who enjoyed the day were Mr. and Mrs. Daniel D. Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. David Morgan and children Mary, Gladys, Margaret Alice and John Edward, of Oak Hill; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hughes (Kate Morgan) and sons Emerson, Elmer, Evan Howard and Morgan Mervin, of Moriah; Mr. and Mrs. Sam Washburn (Alice Morgan) and sons Paul and Glen Alan, of Clay; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Morgan and son Thomas Wayne of Black Fork; John V. Morgan, at home, and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Morgan, and two children Clifford Howard and Dorothy Louise, of Springfield.

While Mr. Morgan is nearing his 70th birthday and his wife her 72nd, both are hale and hearty and are never happier than when surrounded by their children and their families.

Many they enjoy many more years together.

All members of the Fraternal Order of Eagles are requested to be present at the meeting tonight. Business of importance.
